Bullet Not Extracted, but There Are Hopes of Her Recovery.

BCARSDALE, N. Y., May 10.—Police call with a full selection of this season's best and latest Trail ter-in-law, Mrs. Schilling, Tuesday samples. evening. So far not a trace of him has been found.

which is lodged in her back, near the spinal column. Owing to her weakened condition, he thought it better to delay the probing until she has recovered in a measure from the shock.

William Schilling, the woman's husband, was seen this morning by an increase of the lane which leads to the Schilling house, also say they saw no strangers in the neighborhood that evening.

H. C. Mardon, who lives on the Arthur Manor, a little further away, says he heard the three shots, but thought that the Schillings were shooting squirrels. Charles Hurn, who is foreman for

If, however, robbery was Schnellback's motive, he was evidently frightened at the critical moment, as he made off without attempting to ransack the house.

The scene of the shooting was a little Summer kitchen, which has been built on the house in the rear. It is reached by means of a little flight of steps. A big red stain in front of the well-polished kitchen stove shows where the woman fell after Schnellback fired the second shot, which entered her left eye and passed out near the left temple.

Mr. Schilling described the shooting today as told him by his wife on his return from work about 7 o'clock Tuesday evening.

Mrs. Schilling was preparing supper and had stepped around behind the stove to take some wood from the box, when Schnellback, who stood near the door, fired the first shot.

The injured woman is being attended by her sister and brother-in-law from kingsbridge.

No one has been found who saw in the neighborhood that evening.

H. C. Mardon, who lives on the Arthur Manor, a little further away, says he heard the three shots, but thought that the Schillings were shooting squirrels. Charles Hurn, who is foreman for Mrs. Helen Adams, says he was driving along the White Plains road about 7 o'clock on Tuesday evening, and saw a man coming from the direction of the Schillings house. He thought the man acted strangely, but drove on without scrutinizing him very closely, Schnelback is known to have left the train at Tuckahoe, two miles south of Scarsdale, and walked along the White Plains road to the Schillings' house. He was well known to the station agent at Scarsdale, and possibly wished to avoid being recognized.

He stopped at Charles Klunck's saloon

Mr. Schilling said to-day that Schnell-back is very dark-complexicated, with dark brown mustache and has. He is short and stockily built. Mr. Schilling says that he siso has his initial, "J. S., pricked into his right forward. Schnell-
